ner, was tendered a contract b Manager Charley H. wog, of the Cir cinnati Reds, yesterday, in Baltimore.

Herzog has seen the former Tiger flings in action, and feels confident that h will develop into a wining flinger. Two years ago, when Lear was pitching for the Princeton earn, Manager McGraw, of the Glunts, offered b'm a contract, but Lear's parents refused to allow him to sign, as they yeared him to continue his studies at college. It is understood that Lear will sign with the Chreinnati club at once.

after a conference — h Manager Herzog came to Washington to visit some friends when seen list night. Lear said: "The offer Manager Hersog made me was very good, and I think I will take it. I think I will like it with Hersog, if I make good, as they tell me he is a prince to get along with."

Mellon, the St. John's catcher, was signed by Manager Herzog yesterday morning. Mellon: ruight against George-town, Gallaudet and the other local colleges leaf :pring, and looked pretty good. Mellon is a good hitter, in collegiate ranks, ar's as he is a husky put up lad, stands a pood chance of sticking with the Reds.

stands a good chance of sticking with the Reds.

Monk Waiter, well-known to followers of amateur baseball in the District, has been mentioned as the new coach at Business High School, Prof. White, who has had charge of the athletic teams at the Rhod-Island avenue institution for the past two, years will not be able to devote much in this time to the ball club, and Capt. Kelly is looking for a coach, it is understood from reliable information that Waiter is being considered for the position, and should Capt. Kelly secure Monk for the Hemographers the scholustic ranks will have secured another capable athletic instructor.

Waiter knows baseball, there is no denying that. He has seen professional service, and can teach the high school lads one feature of baseball which schoolastic teams hav? never been proficient in, namely bease-running. Waiter is admitted one of the best base runners in amateur circles, and should be a big belp to the Stenographern in this department of the game, if he signs a contract.

Efforts are being made by several men Ders of the American Security and Trus-team to have the club play independent ball next year, and not enter one of the amateur circuits. It is hardly possible that this step will be taken, as Howard S. Recside, who is the real backer of the team, these league baseball, and his word is law at the bank.

Banket-ball will start again next week, Catholic University meets the City Col-lege of New York here Saturday, January B, while Manager Edington, of the Gal-iaudet quint, is trying to arrange a game with the Alcyslus Club for that date at Kendall Green.

When it comies to refereeing basket-ball games Washington has at least two officials who are looked upon as the best in this section of the country, namely Jimmy Hughes and Jim Colliflower. This nair can handle any game, and handle it to the queen's taste. Hughes will more than likely referee all of George Washington's, games this neason, with Colliflower working the Cathollo University contests. Jack Hasa has refereed the games played to date at Georgetown.

A meeting of the Potomac League will be held January 8 at Leonard's Hotel. In Anacosia. The election of officers for next scanon, and other important business is carded to come up for consideration. Managers of all teams desiring to enter the league are requested to be on hand at 8 o'clock.
